Fans Not Impressed with the Showing Against West Branch Y. M. C. A.

NEWS OF OTHER TEAMS

Washington City Basket-ball League Not Yet Started--Dartmouth and Columbia to Have Fives.

By FRANK COLLEY.

Not many fans were impressed with the showing made by the George Washington quint in its first basket-ball game of the season, that is, the one with the West Branch Y. M. C. A. team of Baltimore. Let it be understood at the start that the boys of the Monumental City are not to be slighted when it comes to playing the indoor game. The team that can go to Baltimore and take the measure of the West Branch team has something to be proud of. For the first game of the season, Coach Schloesser's five had to tackle hard opposition, and that they were defeated came as no surprise.

How many of you players, fans, or spectators have been inside of the gymnasium where the West Branch quint holds sway? Maybe many of you have been there and played, and, on the other hand, many of you have not. The West Branch quint is a team of players who have played in Baltimore and in the West Branch gymnasium comes the statement that it is one of the best teams in the country. At one end of the floor there is a brick wall, and the Baltimore players have a habit of coming down the floor, passing to a forward and he in turn takes a flying leap with one foot against the wall and drops the ball in the basket. To the inexperienced player this proves a great handicap.

No, the George Washington boys are registering no kick or trying to prove an alibi for their defeat, but that is one obstacle that all teams playing in the West Branch gymnasium will have to overcome before they will defeat the Baltimore lads.

Taking no credit away from the West Branch boys for their win over George Washington, Coach Schloesser will have to develop a better team than the one now representing the university if he wishes his team to make any showing at all against the local quint and colleges, not saying anything about the fact that the North Atlantic title, with which they are scheduled to play this winter.

Owing to the fact that the directors of the Washington City League cannot agree on a schedule, the teams entered in the league are in doubt when the season will start and who will open up the activities. Many schedules have been made up, but none have suited the managers concerned. As nearly all of the managers have out-of-town games booked for their teams, the dates for the season have been fixed, with which they are scheduled to play this winter.

This is not the right kind of spirit nor the right kind of treatment to hand the many fans of the District, and it will be a great blow to basket-ball of the District if the managers allow many more occurrences of the sort. Why wrangle over the opening date or any other date? If the fans are going to attend the performances of your team they will attend, regardless what day the game is played.

The Dartmouth quint and the Columbia University five are in the field once more. Both universities have a large crowd to pick from and should make a good showing in collegiate circles. Columbia plays the New York University five for the first game of the season, and the latter team is out for the championship and has as its coach Parkinson, formerly of the championship Wesleyan team.

Coach Schloesser has some mighty fine material out for the George Washington quint, as could be seen by local enthusiasts if they had attended the game between the University and Mount St. Joseph's five. That the team is the makings of one of the best forwards in the South, and although a little light, he makes up for this in speed and accuracy in cutting the ball. White is his first season on a college five, he has shown enough to ensure him of a regular berth on the quint. Another boy who is a comer is Alvin H. Shaver. This boy has had plenty of experience, playing the same kind of a game as they play here under collegiate rules, while playing with the Portland Academy quint, and the Pacific Coast Shaver has enough weight to enable him to dribble the entire length of the floor and shake off any opponent that tries to block him while on the run. He will be heard from before the season is over, and the writer is looking for him to develop into a star of the first water.

The first interpretation of the new rule controlling the center to jump on the toss up with one hand behind his back was seen Friday night in the game between George Washington and the Mount St. Joseph's team. It was evident that, according to this fact, both men are put on an equal footing, as some men can jump higher when playing under the old rules than they can with this rule in vogue.

The Mount St. Joseph team showed a lack of practice in this art and they had to be cautioned numerous times by the referee. The main object in this rule is to make the game less rough. Many times have seen the Pacific Coast quint, the opposing center twisting his arm. This is alleviated by the new rule, as the men jumping have no chance to grab another person's hand or twist an arm from behind his back.

This new rule is one of the best that could have been made. It makes the game faster and less rough. Whether the associations will follow this rule remains to be seen, but the colleges will undoubtedly carry the rule out to its full extent.

PAN ZARETA MAKES A NEW WORLD'S RECORD

J. F. Newman's Texas-bred Filly Rumps Home First in the Feature Race.

FLORENCE ROBERTS A WINNER

Quincy, Dec. 6.—A new world record for five and a half furlongs over a circular track was made here today, when J. F. Newman's Texas-bred filly, Pan Zareta, won the feature race in 1:24. The record is one fifth of a second better than the record held by Lady Irma, made at Lexington, Ky., in 1:24.5. Pan Zareta, a three-year-old, was not ridden out in the final sixteenth. Pan Zareta won the race at the start and never left the lead in doubt, winning by two lengths. Florence Roberts finished a length in front of Gold of Ophir. Four favorites scored and the form players enjoyed a good day. The summary:
